Factions

- Demons (us)
- holy faction / church (enemies)
- Empire (enemies)
- The rest (elves, beastfolk and other not important people) (neutral)

Story summary

Once every 100 years the demon lord (the player) wakes from his slumber and plunges the world into chaos… or that is what the church tells people. In reality the demon lord wishes to simply chill and build his own place in the world. The reason the church tells these lies is due to the demon lord having a special crystal embedded in his body that allows him to create matter using another form of energy (in this case blood). This power allows him to even create other living creatures or gold! Basically the crystal is very very strong and the church wants it! annoyingly everytime the church takes the crystal from the demon lord it runs out of energy and stops working after 10 years. And another crystal only grows on the demon lords heart every 100 years. For this reason the church keeps attacking the demon lord. This time however the demon lord is prepared to defend himself from the church and finally start living in peace!

Landscapes

More empire / church sided

- Forest
- Jungle
- Swamp

More Demon faction Sided

- Mesa
- Cave / Rocky planes
- Volcano